Thoughtful exhibition in Boca Raton

When an artist works with the local community on a project, that's when inspiration and collaboration thrive and make for an excellent story to tell. Sculptor and performance artist Maren Hassinger has been working with the Boca Raton Museum of Art and Boca Raton's Pearl City neighborhood on a new exhibition, "Tree of Knowledge." The neighborhood, which was settled by African Americans in the early 1900s, is home to a historic banyan tree which serves as the inspiration for this exhibition, which will be featured in the museum's main gallery. The entrance to the exhibition will also feature a second project developed by Hassinger featuring pink plastic bags on the gallery walls.

"Maren Hassinger: Tree of Knowledge:" Tuesday, November 5 through March 1, 2020. Admission is $12 for adults, $10 for seniors and free for college students (with valid ID) and children. Boca Raton Museum of Art, 501 Plaza Real, Boca Raton. Info: 561-392-2500 or www.bocamuseum.org.
