NEW HOPE

Capturing the bold and the beautiful

By Angela Ashman

Hope Gangloff often employs her friends to be the subjects of her lovely paintings and drawings—and lucky for her, they all happen to be very hip, effortlessly chic bohemian types. So it's no surprise that her work should regularly appear in such publications as Vice and Spin and on clothing for the preppy-punk label Built by Wendy. Tonight, visit Gangloff and her many friends at the art opening party for her fourth solo exhibit at Susan Inglett Gallery.
