Greg Smith: Breakdown Lane

✓ Critics' Pick

Susan Inglett Gallery, 522 W 24th St., New York, NY 10011

Mind-boggling levels of handmade, tinkered-with contraptions, cameras made from dismantled iPhones, and a semi-working real car, complete with filled bathtub, that travels backward down the shoulder of a road. Greg Smith's unromantic, rigorously absurd video vision, sculptural constellations, and mad diagrams present a road trip in the real world via hell. — Jerry Saltz
